

THE QUESTION OF LICENSE.

There is a good deal of discussion going on in this city over the license question and more especially regarding the payment of license by private boarding houses. Mr. Roberts, proprietor of the Arlington, has appeared before the Board of County Commissioners and City Trustees and stated that there were several private boarding houses in the city which lodge and feed people as a means of making money, and he desired that they pay the same license as himself.

While Mr. Roberts is in the main correct, it would seem that the better course would be the establishment of a graded license. That all persons boarding and lodging people for money, should pay a license, there can be no doubt, but it can't hardly be expected that a private boarding house, furnishing meals for half a dozen people, should pay the same as a hotel accommodating from fifty to one hundred.

It would be better to establish a first, second and third class license, which include all kinds of boarding houses and make the price of the license dependent upon the amount of boarders accommodated.

The matter now depends upon the interpretation of the ordinance which as it stands is not as explicit as it might be. The Sheriff is ready to collect the license and the keepers of private boarding houses, are all ready to pay their licenses as soon as the legal question relating to the matter can be decided by the Board of City Trustees.

CALIFORNIA'S PRICE.

The California papers are congratulating the State for its luck in having two of its Congressmen appointed on important committees. These appointments were merely the price paid by the Gold Bugs of New York to California, the traitor Western State, for its dirty work in the Republican caucus, which gave the House an anti-silver man for Speaker. Reed was elected by one vote and that vote came from McKenna of California, while Morrow was hovering round the outskirts of the caucus ready to come to time if he was needed.

Never in the political history of the Coast have two men so thoroughly and completely betrayed their constituents as did those men. Nevada stood true to its interests and its principles, while California, Oregon and Montana, played the sneak and traitor.

The Gold Bugs have lost none of their beldness when they openly seduce representatives of the silver States and then publicly pay them the price of their shams.

These fellows should be hung in effigy in every precinct from the Dallas to the Mexican line.

The papers of California, instead of congratulating themselves that their representatives are on a committee, should hang their heads in shame that they have representatives who, while receiving their votes in California, will assist in legislating for New York.

The Tuscarora Times-Review says that times are so hard with brokers at the Bay that they are obliged to spend the night with their own wives. The Major certainly takes a gloomy view of the state of business in San Francisco, and he can rest assured that when the stamps of the mills begin to fall after this big storm, he will see a decided change in affairs for certainly such stagnation in stocks cannot last for ever.

The figures show that this season is the wettest to date since a record was kept—for forty years. Thank goodness! Now, we new comers, who have been in the country only twenty years or so, can't be crushed by any old-timer when we call this a wet season. Revered pioneers of '49 and the early '50's, please remember a wetter season to date than this is.—Grass Valley Tidings.

California is getting more rain than the streams of the State can handle, and many lives are being lost in the rushing floods.
